

Frequently Asked Questions Related to the COVID-19 Pandemic

Branch Operations

Will Apple Bank temporarily close any branches?

A number of branches are currently open. However, Apple Bank will follow guidance from local authorities and from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in addressing any containment issues that may arise in the future. Get the most up-to-date information on our branch operations and hours.

When will we close a branch?

Unless required by the government, a branch closure is based on the current circumstances impacting the branch. Circumstances include, among others, whether: 1.) customers visiting the branch or branch staff have been diagnosed with the virus, 2.) customer and/or staff health or safety would be compromised, or 3.) the branch is located in a building that was closed or had a COVID-19 diagnosis.

Why is my neighborhood branch closed?

We're doing everything possible to keep our branches open. However, in some locations you may find only ATM or drive-up service available, due to staffing issues and the need to enforce social distancing rules. Please check here for an up-to-date summary of open branches, ATMs, drive-up service, and hours of operation.

CARES Act Retirement Plan FAQ

Note: Apple Bank does not provide tax or legal advice. Please consult your tax advisor for details, and about your individual circumstances.

Through the CARES Act, the IRS extended the federal income tax filing deadline from April 15, 2020 to July 15, 2020. Can I make a 2019 IRA contribution up to the revised IRS July 15, 2010 filing deadline?

Yes, the Cares Act has extended the due date for filing federal income tax returns and making federal income tax payments from April 15, 2020 to July 15, 2020. IRA contributions made between April 15, 2020 and July 15, 2020 must be designated as either previous tax year (2019) or current tax year (2020) contributions.

Can I withdraw funds from my retirement account to cover COVID-19-related expenses?

The CARES Act permits you to withdraw up to $100,000 from eligible retirement plans, if you meet the following COVID-19 hardship conditions:

- You, your spouse, or dependent has been diagnosed with the coronavirus (i.e., SARS-CoV-2 or COVID-19),
- You have experienced adverse financial consequences due to being quarantined, furloughed, laid off, or have been subjected to reduced pay as a result of a reduction in hours worked due to the coronavirus,
- You are unable to work due to lack of child care due to the coronavirus,
- You own or operate a business that has closed or reduced hours due to the coronavirus, or
- Other factors as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Will I have to pay the 10% IRS early withdrawal penalty if I take a coronavirus-related distribution?

No. The 10% tax penalty that generally applies to early withdrawals from a retirement account if you are younger than 59½, will not apply to coronavirus-related distributions made under the CARES Act.

When can I make coronavirus-related distributions?

The CARES Act coronavirus-related distributions are available through December 31, 2020.

Will I have to pay tax on these distributions?

Yes. However, tax associated with distributions may be paid back in equal amounts over three years, beginning with taxable year 2020.

Am I required to take a Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) from my retirement account in 2020?

No. If your account is an eligible IRA, 401(k) plan, 403(b) plan or other eligible contribution plan, RMDs for these plans have been waived for 2020, including a plan holder's first RMD provided it was NOT taken before January 1, 2020.

Where can I get more information on the retirement-related provisions in the CARES Act?

The IRS is expected to provide ongoing guidance for the CARES Act retirement-related provisions at www.irs.gov/coronavirus.

General Services FAQ

Will I still receive my federal government Social Security benefits?

Yes. The Social Security Administration is mailing checks or directly depositing Social Security benefits to recipients, as usual. For customers who have selected electronic deposit, your monthly Social Security benefits will continue to be posted to your account upon receipt by Apple Bank. If you elected to receive your benefit checks by mail, you may bring those checks into any open Apple Bank branch, or deposit your checks at an open and available Apple Bank ATM. Stay updated about what the Social Security Administration is doing during the COVID-19 pandemic at www.ssa.gov/coronavirus.

What is Apple Bank's ABA routing and transit number for direct deposit of paychecks or government checks?
